Survival skills are techniques that a person may use in order to sustain life in any type of natural environment or built environment. However, many experts including Ray Mears and John Kallas [22] reject this method, stating that even a small amount of some "potential foods" can cause physical discomfort, illness, or death.

He completed therapy less than two years later, happy, productive, remarried. Some have read him as positing at least one atomic swerve in the soul to coincide with and probably help constitute every new volition.
